2 New Books

by Mark Hancock

PRONPACK: CONNECTED SPEECH FOR LISTENERS provides background tips plus a wealth of teaching ideas and materials for dealing in class with the pronunciation of natural spoken English. The main objective is to help learners improve their listening skills. This pocketbook-style volume is user-friendly, with short well signposted chapters providing maximum accessibility for the busy teacher.

by Christopher Graham

50 WAYS TO BE A GREENER TEACHER This book guides and supports ESL/EFL teachers who wish to 'green' their teaching practices. You'll find ideas to both adapt your coursebooks lightly and to create your own lessons and projects around the climate crisis. The book goes further than that, however, as it also includes ideas to help you to be part of the process of greening your school, college, or university, and to encourage your learners to be part of that process too. In short, it will help you to be a greener teacher in a greener school.

You are invited!

Saturday, 7 May 2022, 13.00 - 13.25
MAKING ELT A GREENER PROFESSION
In this short talk, Christopher Graham will provide an overview of the interface between English language teaching and the climate change crisis. He will look both at the negative impacts of our global community on the environment and at ways we can, through greening our schools and classes, make some positive impacts. He will be introducing his new book '50 Ways to Be a Greener Teacher', just published by Wayzgoose Press.

Saturday, 7 May 2022, 17.00 - 17.50
TAKING BACK THE CLASSROOM
How can classroom lessons complement technology rather than compete with it? This webinar explores drama, pragmatics and other social activities that use the dynamics of the classroom to enhance the language learning experience..

Panayiotis Constantinides

Sunday, 8 May 2022, 10.00 - 10.50
DYSLEXIA AND ADULTS IN EUROPE
A project on Dyslexia and Adults in five different countries in Europe, running two years now under the supervision of Dyslexia Institute UK. Useful information, conclusions and suggestions for a more dyslexia friendly future.

Rob Howard

Sunday, 8 May 2022, 14.00 - 14.50
REINVENTING EDUCATION: PREPARING TEENS FOR THE FUTURE
This talk will look at how we should be using business English skills to better prepare teens for their academic and professional future as well as how teachers and the system must change to meet these needs.

SAY IT TO HEAR IT: PRONUNCIATION TO BENEFIT LISTENING SKILLS
We often think of pronunciation in terms of productive skills, but it's equally important for receptive ones. Indeed, some aspects of pronunciation learning are primarily for the benefit of listening – connected speech in particular. In this presentation, I will demonstrate activities which, although they may engage learners in active production, do so for the purpose of improving listening skills.
